Project Constraints Essay

With any technology there are security concerns. Since we are creating an app, anyone could hack the app and obtain consumer's personal information or data. They could also attach a virus to individuals personal devices and those are just a few things to be wary of. Our app will be beneficial to society because many people have health limitations and some can be quite indecisive or ignorant to restaurants in the area that fit their needs and wants. Our app is designed to enhance their experience in finding food daily and anywhere.

The only limitation about how the project will be used is a location based one. The data retrieved will be focused on Cincinnati. There are no concerns about environmental impacts because that is above the scope of the project. The only cultural constraint is that the web application will be in the English language. Promoting diversity plays a role in the design of the project because diverse recommendations will be suggested to users of the application based on selected criteria such as type of cuisine, ratings, accessibility, etc.
